

STATISTICS

(have come to a temporary standstill, so feel free to check out the history until now over the past few years.)

This is the Statistics Section of the news, where I give a weekly update on my readers of this website, for people who Google or regularly come back to check the news and new books.

Statistics:- Welcome to Parsifal Enterprises and King Royal Statistics, which are just an indication on how many readers I get off you per week, with a little general comment, that appear each week from me, for you, the readers in your own part of the world. Please be patient with the work as you the readers are what makes the site worth while and I thank you for your valuable understanding in the work and your caring attitude to me and other readers. (Interesting Point. I remember about 20 or more different statues in my subconscious, which I think have memories like, or for readers. Ps. Statutes are binding legal documents). Darel.

PRINTING of this news segment of Statistics was done on the 30/09/2019 and will be printed again in twelve months.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment, a little unregular with a different format of the statistics graph for me to format and work out, I think I have done the best I can with it and close enough for my likings, you will just have to accept it as close to Gospel without argument or indifference I am afraid. Welcome to any new reader this week and also our friends from Inverell Presbyterian who I did not give a mention due to my forgetful self and doing plenty of driving, Arthur, Peter, Simon, Elizabeth and the man who I talked to about Chinese Christians, sorry I forgot your name. A welcome also to the faithful regulars. We will see how we go next week with this style of formatting. God Bless and have a good week. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I am sorry, but statistics have not been available for the last two weeks due to expiry on the Google scheduling, that has been fixed and restored now and so hopefully we will be right for another twelve months, till I have to place another request to receive statistics again. That seems to get me each year and Greg at Hills Web Design does not always get my e-mails on time. Anyway back to normal now with a reasonably good week. Thanks to one and all who dropped in for a visit, both faithful regulars

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and report and I hope that you have enjoyed your week. Down again this week without any new book work, to be expected a bit i think. I have been sick and tired a bit of late. I am not complainning about the work but just that when you are not feeling the best within yourself not as much gets done. With Christmas and summer weather and people on holidays, there are several factors for numbers being down. Sorry that I can not accomodate you all, all the time. The website is here freely if you wish to check it out and read the news. Otherwise I will let you get back to what you have more time to do in more normal conditions and times of the year. Welcome all readers, both new and the faithful regulars. Happy 2020 and have a good week as see you in the new year, stay tuned for the latest updates. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. I have had a good week with another five pages being written and I hope that you have enjoyed those. Numbers a little down on last week and the month down on last month ans the month before that. I hope that this is not a continual downward trend and spiral. Things will start looking up again and get brighter I hope, maybe because of the drought elsewhere, maybe that is affected us here to. We need the rain in a dry and thirsty land badly and Chirst needs to reign on earth in heavenly wisdom. Stay tuned and stick with it all the best till then next week. Welcome to all new and faithful regular readers, I have to just keep reassuring myself that you are out there and will keep coming back. Have a good week. Darel.

We are back up around and about above average this week, good to see that you did not all leave me for ever and that we still have the faithful regulars who come back from time to time and some each day. Welcome also to a few new people this week and I hope you found something interesting on the site. I got five pages written in book work this week and so that may have prompted a few hearts and minds to check again. Good to see you all back for this weeks turnout. Stay tuned for yet another week when we will aim to please as much as possible and get as much of the pages done in the book work as humanly concievably orientated and directed. Have a nother great week, all. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Welcome to any new readersand the faithful regulars. It has been a bit of a slow week here on PE but I have enjoyed my side of it exceedingly. With a great day out yesterday and today again. Congratulations of those of you who did stay tunred I hope that you have had an exceptional week as well. We will just push on regardless with the lowest amount of readers that we have had in a fair while, I did not get much writing done with other activities in progress, we will see what we can do this week to change and rectify that if possible. Have another really great week and don't forget all of you to stay tuned and check the news and see what is happening in the way of new work. God Bless. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. It has been another good week here on PE with a some of really good days again, I have to allow for the quite days as my mind needs quiet days to, howver we must both try to endeavour to keep going through thick and thin, except when it is humanly impossible then I just have to take a break and leave it up to God, that is where you come and I get a break while you get a chance to read, or at least that is how I think it should work. Lets us all both just take things in there stride and continue on through thick and thin to come out on top of any distracting circumstances. Have a good week one and all, welcome to both new readers and the faithful regulars, back again here next week, stay tuned and keep checking the news for new work. Darel.

Nothing much to report this week on what was an average to slightly slow week. Got to be happy with 250 or more, still enough to make things worth while and be productive. Great to have you all here again and stay tuned for the next episode and new week coming for the next adventure of Parsifal Enterprises. We have some new work on Life Philosophically this week and it looks like I am warming up for the ride to plough through that, with 60% being completed now. Have a good coming week and stay tuned for next weeks work. Darel.

week. A little down on the last few weeks but we are still in there and hanging in for an effort to get results, I am happy that enough of you come along each week to have a look at my work, there has been a few new pages in the last week or so in the book work and so there is reason for you to check out what is new. I hope that you are enjoying the new stuff and that you can get a little bit of love and incite out of the work to suit your own needs and tailor extracts to your own personal requirements. Welcome to both the new readers and faithful regulars and I hope that you enjoy your week, don't forget to check the news for new work happening. Have a good week one and all. Darel.

Nothing for King Royal this week but an average to OK week, maybe even slightly above an average of 250 and a very good day on Saturday. I was expecting a few more on Sunday with the four cards given at church and even a few looks at King Royal then, not to be too disappointed there is still time today and for the rest of the week for new people to have a look. Welcome to one and all, new readers and the faithful regulars, if you are a new reader then you are more than welcome to become a faithful regular just by tuning in at least once a week. ps. if you are a regular don't forget to check the statistics each week. COMMENT Well done and welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. It was a big week here on PE, with a 120 yesterday, my sister might have read some more of the other pages or e-mailed a few freinds to have a look at her poem. Anyway an extrodinary result and the highest that I can remember without checking for a long time, we have been over 400 in a week before but too far back for me to remember. Anyway I am glad that you all came in again for another look and the election results and comments yesterday may have drawn a few people as well. You all must be pyschic as to know when to come back for the news you want. Regular checking is always the best way to see what is going on. Welcome to the faithful regulars and any new reader that may have dropped in. Also to Wayne from church yesterday if you saw this segment, he has a brother Daryl as well as my brother Wayne who died aged 50 four years ago now. There were two brothers in Broken Hill at The God Room Church in the Sydney Uni buliding out there as well, Daryl and Wayne. It must be a bit of a common grouping. Have a good week and more again next week. Darel.

It seems that you only turn up when the book work is being done, you are not anticipating anything and so you don't read, when you think there is book work, all of a sudden there is readers. Well if that is the way you want to do business, fine with me. I am sweating on getting my new website so that I can work properly. I may try and start writing the last pages of Life Balances now, while I wait, I will work backwards because I can't remember what page I am up to as Terry has the book. I think it is about 100 and I still have 50 or more pages to write and so I will start on the last five chapters as there is 150 pages in the book and it is on King Royal.Thanks for all those who did turn up and I hope that you enjoyed your wee, both new readers and the faithful regulars. Thanyou one and all, still over a hundred readers up from last month. Back again in a week. Darel.

COMMENT.Welcome tot his week statistics comment and what a good week it was. I hoping and praying that you would all come abck this week and it was only vertual anticipation really that the numbers were so good, we nearly got to the 400 mark, well only 37 short and well above 350. I am glad and greatful that youa ll amde the effort as I have been busy as well withw riting news and also finishing off a book this week, that must have got your curiosity as to what was going on and you all came back for the last chapter of Organisational Ideas on King Royal. I know that you have to check out what is going on first on this website, but that is the whole idea of it. You are more than welcome to go to King Royal first if you want, but don't forget the enws on this one, that is where most of the action happens and any book work uis just pure bonus, even though the original intentions were the other way around. Feel free to wander anywhere you wnat on both sites and with a bit of luck we will have a third one to work on in the near future for your pondering perusal. Welcome one and all, faithful regulars and any new reader, you are all most welcome. Have a good week. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you all enjoyed your week. Back up there on about or above average this week, 300 is average and so anything over that is a pure joy and a bonus. I hope that you all had a good week and a big welcome back to the faithful regulars and also to any new reeder that may have dropped in this week. I do hope that you can try and join me again for the coming week and that with a bit of luck and God's help we can push upt he weekly average to 350. It must have been the 7 pages in one day on King Royal, that brought you all in on the Saturday. Have a great week and I hope to see you all again here soon, next week. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome tot his weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Well we start off the month with a slow one and I am not sure what I am doing wrong. THis site maybe becoming a bit boring without a lot of new ideas and fresh activities. I don't know if I can change my way of thinking too much in the enar soon future. There was some new work on King Royal and I did finish that chapter. I am starting to not understand what to expect and maybe you are to. Anyway we are still over 200 and that meets and satisfies expections to a certain degree. Have a good week and see you here again next time. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statitics comment and I hope that you all enjoyed your week. Well I got a few pages written for King Royal and numbers jumped back up a little bit this week, but only a little bit, 35 pages read. We had a lower month overall without getting 300 readers in one week at all dropping nearly 500 on last month but up 31 pages read from January, still over a thousand for the month with pageviews. Last month in February it was a five week month, very strange for February, but we just have to accept things as they come as we can't change anything on our own, it takes all of you to do that. Welcome one and all, faithful regulars and any new readers and I hope that you all come back again and we have a great week, next week and for the Month of April.Thanks, Darel.

COMMENT. Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Down considerably on recent weeks and current trends, I don't know what could have happened to you all. I can only blame myself that I was not productive enough, without any new writing work until yesterday, for two weeks. The waether has been a bit ioffy as well and there has been no new reason to jump up and get excirted on my behalf as well. I have that you have a good week for the coming period and that you all feel welcome to come back again this coming week and check the news and new work. I guess also the election took precedent for a lot of you over the last week and that economic and political times can effect readers. Lets get on with the job as the politicians have to do also and stay focused and aware of current conditions and times. Have a good week and see you all here again next week with a few others as well I hope. More next week. Darel.

swings. Nevertheless a good effort for all concerned and for those of you who came back this week, welcome to the faithful regulars. Welcome also to any new read who may have dropped in for the first time. I hope you enjoy the news and find time to read the book work, I hope that you enjoy the read. For those who just come back on a Monday or Tuesday for the statistics, I hope that you are getting something out of the information and news articles as well. Well it has been a good wek here on PE and an exceptional bumper February with 5 weeks this month, I don't know how I managed that, but I did for a four week 28 day month. We have to go back to August and June last year to beat this months statistics. The fifth week was also the best for the month and so I am happy and appreciative that you all came back again this week and made the effort to check out the news and new work on KR. Welcome back to the faithful regulars and also any new reader that may have dropped in. Have a good week and see you here again same time same place next week. Darel.

If we just keep plodding along at this rate it will be a slow old game for the rest of the year and so I am hoping to meet some new people and give cards out for some more regular readers. I missed a couple at The Bible Society the other day, I am sorry about that. Anyway welcome to the faithful regulars and any new reader that may have dropped in this week. I have had a good week here on PE with a couple of pages getting written and a few good and nice days out. You however have kept much to the same as last week and only dropped 42 readers, I can't answer that one, normal fluctuations to be expected and compared. Even so and either way it is also good to have those regular readers back on board again this week and a big welcome to any new readers. Thanks a lot to The Lord for looking after me yet again for another week and pray that God not only keeps you and I safe through the coming weeks but he also blesses you for the fruit of your labour. God Bless you and see you next week and hopefully you will see me throughout the week here on PE and KR. Darel.

It has been a slow week here for readers and just because I am away on a break or holidays does not mean everything starts to fall apart. People die and the world comes crashing down, not really but a bit like with numbers down 200 this week. Welcome to any new readers this week and the faithful regulars who mat have just checked once or twice this week as there was not much news while I was away. I hope things pick up and get bAck to normal again next week as regular statistics of around 300 is accepted and usually predicted. There will be more writing done this week so don't forget to check for new pages on King Royal. Have a good week and more later. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Well, we have had another good week here at PE and things are starting to look up with a gradual increase in readers aver the last month or two. Averaging 350 now instead of 300. This could be temporary or permanent and I am hoping for the latter, That if we can keep going up in statistics figures continually it will become more interesting and worth working for all readers. I am working harder and enjoying it more and that could be the reason, but we will stay faithful to the regular readers and bless those and any new readers again this week and for forthcoming weeks in the future. Kind of a mixed bag this week on PE starting off stable and level 30's and ending up higher in the later days of the week, A zero figure day as so we really have numbers all over the place and a bit out of the ordinary despite some indications that people are still around and coming back for the pages written on King Royal. I guesss that you have to find out first what is happening and written on PE before you check KR, but nevertheless we still have nearly 300 pages read which is abot average and quite acceptable. COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week as much as I did mine. We had a big day on Monday last week, good to see which pushed the weeks average up and gave us a good week statistics wise. Welcome to each and every reader for the week, we have some new readers this week to and you are to feel most welcome. Welcome back to the faithful regulars as well I am always glad to see you here. I hope next week is a repeat performance, please help and try and make that possible, possibly due to Organisational Ideas kicking off for the record Monday. Who knows, have a good week. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Well it is good to see you all back here again for another week and I hope that this keeps up for next week as well. We have had another regular to good week by nearly getting 300 again this week. I am dsorry that you did not get King Royal statistics but hopefully next week you should be able to get those which you can find here just below. the 100 I have entered for this week is purely speculative but that is how I feel it went and I hope that that gives you some indication and makes you feel good as I did not get statistics for there yet this week. See you back again next week. Darel.

COMMENT. Welcome to this weeks staistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week as much as I did mine. Well mine was a good one with a new car and website. The statistics are a day late and so we do not have Mondays figures yet witht he enw website, but I look forward to a big day with your esp and my new website, you must simply be able to tell when I am working, good for you. The car did not draw much of a crowd but for some reason Wednesday was a big one with 70. This is great and I look forward to this regularly happening. Another normal week with what appears to be average results for each day really. Welcome plus thanks to everyone who participated. Have a great week and see you again next week for your results in contributing to the website. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you all enjoyed your week as much as I did mine. Mine was capped off with a nice long weekend away in which not many of you came to see what I was doing as I did not do any news for the weekend and you must have esp to pick that up. Anyway not a bad week overall with five days around the 50 mark about or above average. Thankyou one and all for your patronage on Parsifal Enterprises and i look forward to you rejoining me next week with your company to impart and bestow on the fellow readers and my efforts on the website. Good to have you all back again and welcome to the faithful regulars as well as any new readers that may have dropped in for a look, do stay tuned and come back next week. All the best for now and do come back. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome back to what was a more normal week statistics wise. While I had read a lot during the week and got tired later in the week, things panned out as per usual with you the readers. It was good to have a record week last week, but also good to be back on track as normal. With my accident I am also in a bit of a muddle adjusting to not having a car and also the committment to use discipline and save for another. Anyway with a big first day this week being best and a near downward spiral from then on to the end of the week, have all just had to adjust to the distractions around us. I will assume that you all got your information this week as you required and that we will be back on track with a more even kiel next week. With Bible College starting up and happening in a couple of weeks and my usual daily routine changing throughout the week a bit. I am still adjusting to the new changes in work activities myself and the car is just an extra difficulty. We will see what exactly happens as things evolve and transpire over the coming weeks. But for now it is just a big welcome to the faithful regulars and any new reader that may have come in and found the website.Thanks and God Bless. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeksd statistics comment of what has been a great week. As it appears to me we are down on regular readers checking the news, however we have one reader who has started to go through the books in my opinion to give us a record readers result for the week. Welcome to whoever you are, perhaps Anne from Scottish dancing who may have read more book pages the other week when I did not have a result and estimated. Welcome one and all in any case as those who come back as the faithful regulars and those who are new to the site for the first time and reading the books, welcome, it is great to have you all with me. It is also harder to estimate the results on the graph I get when the range is between 0-500 and so if I am five or 10 out for thee week I hope that you understand. Have a great week and God Bless. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome tiot his weeks statistics comment, First we did not have any statitisics for last week due to a tech problem. I had e-mailed Greg and he reset the program and so we are now back on track this week. I put in a low estimate for last week for 250 just to be conservative. I have no idea really they could have been between 250 and 350, but we will settle for a minimal amount. At 309 this week we have an above average amount of readers and I thank you all for coming in for the news. Also to any who have been able to go through the books for the first time. I hope that you all had a good couple of weeks and that you enjoy the one coming. Until next week. Darel.

COMMENT. Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I am glad that you could make it back this week. We have a good and above average number again this week and it looks like you all came back to check the news. I am sorry that there was no new work this week but I have writing in mind for the coming week. Welcome to the regulars and any new readers and I look forward to seeing you all come back again for the next week. Thanks Darel.

COMMENT.Welcome to this weeks statistics commenta nd I hope you all had a good week. Well numbers are normal this week and quite a bit up from last week with an average daily readership of about the same each day. At 50 a day it looks like we have just had the regular faithfuls come back each day to check the news and I thankyou all for that. If by case we have had a new reader this week, then a big hearty welcome to Parsifal Enterprises and I hope that you get to enjoy the site. Otherwise we will just have to stick we the normal crowd on a day by day week by week basis, who come in for the regular look and check. Thanyou all once again and have yourselves all a very good week. Darel.

COMMENT.Welcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you all enjoyed your week. Numbers down again a bit this week, we look like we have got the proverbial yoyo with statistics up and down and back and forth like nobodies business. Nevertheless we are still around the safe mark of the two hundreds which is enough to keep me happy and you to I hope. I hope that you feel the spirit of sharing in the week by week statistics as they come in and arise in order for you to see them. Have a good week to everyone and welcome to any new reader and ofcourse the faithful regulars. Back up again next week I hope to see. Darel.

COMMENT. Welcome to this weeks statistics comment. We have had a great month with a forth week being quite strong to finish off the month. There is three days of May in with this April week and so I included that at the top. We also missed a day of March in April at the beginning on the month but that was overlooked. I note that the second weeka nd forth weeks were both 289, perhaps that is some kind of omen. I hope that you have had a great week as the statistics have indicated and that you will endeavour to come back just as much or more in May. To any new readers, a special welcome and also a warm thanks to regular faithfuls, please continue to keep coming back. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. Statistics are a little lower this week, 100 lower than last week in fact. Maybe you got all of the good stuff the week before ( ten pages written) or you just got tired and lazy to come back. Never mind we still have 250 readers nearly and I welcome all of you who did drop in for a sneek look at the work this week. Welcome to the regular faithfuls and also any new readers this week. Thanks for participating and I look forward to your company next week if you feel inclined to come and see what is going on in my world. I will try and write some more pages this coing week. Have a great week. Darel.

COMMENTWelcome to this weeks statistics comment and I hope that you enjoyed your week. I have had a good week, quite slow and steady doing a few things with writing and also a day or two out. I am glad to see that this was a key to success to get a high and above average number of readers this week, with a couple of very good individual days. I am glad that you all could make it and I am thankful that you all did make the effort to come back so many times per person as well. Welcome to any new reader that may have dropped in this week stay tuned for more coming this next week. Thankyou again to all the faithful regulars that have come in to this website week after week for a long time now, nearly seven years on the site now. I am glad that you have stayed tune and true to the cause and that you have also been richly blessed by the work over the week/s and the previous years. Thanks again and God Bless for the coming week. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment. Numbers a little down to just on par, with average daily readers being much the same. Does that mean that you are all coming back nearly each day to check the news, I hope so. Welcome to faithful regulars as well as any new readers, please take some time to read the books if you are new as I am sure that the regulars have all done that by now. Have a good week and More next week. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment. Well at first glance I thought we had a record week, good but not quite the highest yet, it is good and pleasing to see that most of you have come back since I had a break in Broken Hill and we went without the work and statistcis for a week except for one day. Neverthe less things are now much to a muchness back to normal. Welcome to any new readers and I am glad that you made it back to all the faithful regulars, Good to see you all again with some serious numbers back online. Please have a good week and see you again soon. Darel.

COMMENT Welcome to this weeks statistics comment. I have had a good week watching the Olympics again and I hope you have enjoyed some of that to, it has been a truly professional and well organised event. Nevertheless we have still managed to keep work going here at Parsifal Enterprises as I hope you would have come to expect by now. Life is like the olympic games in that the winners compete for something above themselves and a medal is worth more
