

Life's about like that it is always being unreasonable for us all,

The reason it is unreasonable is because it has to always please everyone;

And we know that is unreasonable because we really should take it all in turns,

But some of us are a bit greedy and demand it all the time unreasonably.

So being unreasonable to is being unreasonable to people being reasonable,

Now that an anti oxymoron because being unreasonable is being unreasonable;

Now I want to get that clear because life is always being unreasonable,

The reasonable things to ask is for people to be reasonable not being unreasonable.

It is a bit reasonable to ask that being unreasonable becomes more reasonable,

As unreasonableness is being unreasonable in relativity to relationship,

It is fair to say that money is being unreasonable but happy with a product,

For the exchange of money for a product is not being unreasonable at all.

Ill concede that being unreasonable is to be to unreasonably to ask beings,

Wanting everything is being unreasonable as well and you can go to hell;

Again going to hell is being unreasonable because people expect you to be,

So being a celebrity or personality is being unreasonable because one can and one cant.

So it's being totally unreasonable to be expecting him all the time,

When she is sick and it's being unreasonable to ask them to tell;

It is being unreasonable to live and being unreasonable to let die,

So being unreasonable is the new right reason for being unreasonable again.
