

One right idea to go on with and make a fortune,

One right idea to have and know a kind of torture;

One right idea is enough to win and have your own way,

One right idea is the right idea for each and every day.

One right idea for each and every single individual,

One right idea to keep and use for all the industrious;

One right idea to read and lead meaning money to sell,

One right idea to buy and own and live on eternally well.

One right idea is the best idea because it can beat better,

One right idea is a nice and kind idea right down to the letter;

One right idea is to save and spend to decide the price and cost,

One right idea is to offer up a prayer for people for those who're lost.

One right idea is a good idea which only God knows how,

One right idea is not the wrong idea but the one you say wow;

One right idea is not a bad idea because that would be mad,

One right idea is to be happy with things there and then being glad.

One right idea is the day and the other right idea night,

One right idea is to write the right idea under the light;

One right idea is possible for many right ideas to be right,

One right idea is dying after a long time and long life to fight.

One right idea is the perfect idea of heaven and paradise,

One right idea is the problem of hell becoming well in parallel;

One right idea is a sad idea, because to really win you must lose,

One right idea is a great idea because as human beings we choose.
