

Is life is as easy as a piece of cake?

No, well I have got news for you;

For when everything is as hard as hell,

It hurts enough to really make you well.

A piece of cake you dare to suggest,

Would be really nice for dessert;

With the sweet taste of freshness to tell,

All bake with flour to sell.

For morning or afternoon tea to try,

A cup of coffee goes nicely down;

But don't tempt fate and have it every day,

For the doctors got news as well.

And the baker bought and the baker sold,

Making all the nice things as well;

And the thing that you are lazy about,

Was why the piece of cake would sell.

So at the end of the day and the end of this poem,

It seems like a piece of cake would be nice at home;

So by yourself one from the cake shop,

And enjoy it to end this and stop.

Well it tasted rather beautiful,

But I'd better so for a walk;

And set myself another piece,

To lose the want of the talk.

Whether Happy
