

Love isn't love until you give it away
And if it comes back to you it is love that is here to stay
True love is true love and definitely one of a kind,
That your perfect match in life is of the same mind.

True love is fair love and right to behold,
To love and to nurture in beauty to believe;
True love is the best love, because it never lets you down,
As true love is a perfect love, like a king with a crown.

But true love needs two loves for it to really work,
One is a man and the other a woman, by God's word;
Real love is actual love and true love is due,
With true love you see clearly, to believe as new.

True love is good love, because it always remains true,
From now until eternity, where Christ's brilliance is knew;
True love is financial and a fiancée will match,
For perfect partners in marriage, true love is the catch.

True love is blue love, like the clear sky of heaven,
Where God sits and resides and listens to his servants;
Now true love is right love, left to live up to,
That true love reigns supreme, as love in beauty is to do.

True love, refines love and true love remains true love,
True love is new love, when true love is through love;
True love is bright love and the best love to be seen,
For true love is about above love in all majesties scene.

Signed,

Perfect Partners.
