

I got up to a brand new day, With brand new possibilities to try in a brand new way; God gave me the idea that life was worth living,

To use my time wisely and help others by giving.

The birds were chirping and singing their song,

The air was fresh, clean and crisp all day long;

All was so beautiful just wanting to be,

With so much to do and so much to see.

The rule when you're waiting is to let God take the lead,

With all the things going on and so much to read;

I think it's a good thing to know and to learn,

To take on a challenge for what you can earn.

So I went out on my way to see all in store,

You create a to travel and search and explore;

What a wonderful feeling to experience and feel,

The truth of life revealed ever so real.

Well I was well on my way into the middle of the day,

Not a cloud in the sky then later went grey;

Nut now low and behold me I saw in the distance,

The answers I looked for revealed in persistence,

New every morning from and old aging earth,

To know all existence and discover all it's worth;

Knew every morning such excitement revealed,
The new day from dawning letting know what concealed.

Signed,

Another day ahead
