

Is it night or day in the world on the earth?

Do you get my drift being positive or negative?

Is it under the ground, is digging up worth?

Is it high in the sky or is heaven and hell selective?

Do you shift around all the time or stay in one place?

Is your money on a horse or have time for the space race?

Are you lucky with a truck or just drive a car?

Would you go a million miles or as far as a star?

Is your mind on the mine or have awe in the money?

Would you steal dollars or pound the beach when it's sunny?

These questions all need answers are they just yes and no?

Or are you reading a book or watching a television show?

These things bring uncertainty and breed chaos in thought,

Now I'm not evens sure of the things that I brought;

Whether there is food on the table or paintings in the wall,

Or the weather is changing or the dishes are sport.

Are you understanding this or is this making sense?

Am I breaking the law or is this a bit over the fence?

The nails cost cents, I'll bet a pound to a peanut,

Or if the tense is the tents, the pence is a knot not.

Making waves is not a wheel and not really free,

And money for sex is not for the birds and the bees;

You picked the difference and I missed the idea,

So is the honey on the bread or is an orgasm me.

Signed,

Nothing Will.
