

The technological innovative trend now is for robots,

Electronic things like people to serve creature habits;

Programmed to understand needs and requirements,

Of wants and desires for creative rich management.

Intellectual monstrosities that have mythical brains,

Made of integrated circuit boards with electronic trains;

Digitally mastered and crafted to organised thought,

For demanding wealthy customers to serve as ought.

With an extraordinary amount of structural strategy,

Genius of current signals replace the failing tragedy;

As ineffective fallacies are rectified quite brilliantly,

Reproducing of heartbeats instinctively beautifully.

The mind of metal movements substantially improves,

To the head of robotic technicians in space implores;

As minimization of storage is maximization of matter,

And the sport of simplification is reversed in chatter.

To the left or right and synchronized in dexterous love,

A turn of distinguishment for brighter things above;

Robots no doubt are the future of the imagination,

For the importation of advancement and integration.

The migration of manipulation mastered by a man,

According to the purpose and the promise of plan;

So the result is an explosion of an interplanetary lead,

Where robots do their duty and civil mind will need.
