

Confidence is something that we should have all the time;

Considering the pertinence of poetry and rhyme;

It is a thing that instills meaning and strength to the heart,

Providing you keep your head level, you will stay smart.

The main thing in life is to always have confidence,

Which comes from reading and writing with competence;

Confidence can be confiding or trusting a friend,

And the truth is its better not to borrow or lend.

Confidence is considering the things we need to do best,

And being equal to rise to the occasion and test;

In life you can be confident that monies in the bank,

As time seems to go by without a person to thank.

Or be confidence that the mail must always get through,

In rain, hail or shine so that it all will come true,

And the best thing to do is to live with the confidence,

That you're clean as a whistle, with fresh breath and confident.

Concentrate on contentment and confidence will come,

For those a bit timid and not sure or are dumb,

And doing the deeds gives all the confidence you need,

Following the right way of what does lead or read.

Now I have confidence in the things that I write,

Which are usually judged by others clear in their sight;

And you have confidence in the things that you read,

If you read everything right and the truth you do heed.

Signed,

Trusting others.
