

Is it against the law to make money out of friends?

When the world revolves around, borrows and lends;

It seems a saw point to prove this passionate cause,

This endeavours to seek love and has to hate wars.

It takes a rebuke to return and amend it sometimes,

Like friendships is a keepsake in poems and rhymes;

Honouring promises help establish and securely link,

That the fight is better in thought, think, pen and ink.

Friendship a matter that in one-another we depend,

In all manners and courtesy if curiosities to befriend;

It is a bit of an effort but the challenge is worthwhile,

For the battle and benefit of a relationship in style.

We need to understand what want to mutually agree,

That the world can be a place of all total harmony;

And the beauty of behaviour is a nice pleasant smell,

To get on and live with each other all eternally well.

It takes two to tango and is a mutual trusting benefit,

In the seasons and the reasons of living and being fit;

And the magic and love are the only one true thing,

Of joy and pleasantness and the peace they do bring.

So if you see me and we are both agreeing to meet,

If you know me or see me walking down the street;

Say hello or high and I think we will get on just fine,

As now I say goodbye and finish this within the line.

Signed,

How will it start.
