

Write away being wrote was being write right money,

So write right money being right because being wrote rights funny;

So being wrong to write being right money is write being wrote,

And the right money being right was write to right wrote note.

As the right note was wrote right to be written right money,

Being wrong was being right and being wrote was being write money;

And being right money was right to write for money being right,

And the right money was being right to write right being money.

So being wrote was the right note for the right money to know,

And to know right money was being right you had to right to grow;

For as you grow and learn to know that being right is to write money,

The money comes as you write to be right to learn to show.

So being wrote is the right to write you have the right money,

For the right money is nice to know and you should show to mean grow;

As I write this in the know to grow and show it all goes in flow,

So the right money in the line is being wrote to know and rhyme.

So you're right to being wrong about being wrote for the right money,

Like I always knew with dreams come true, dreaming is funny;

For when you really write about the honey who wrote it is right money,

And she is right and has to write the rhyme of money being funny.

And now if you think that's all very right just write the money,

But time will tell if you're proved right when you have right honey;

For to write the honey funny right it's right to have wrong money,

And when you're being wrote with right money it's fun to have the honey.

Signed,

She was wrote right
