

You can't have one without the other I said,

You can't worship God and have the money head;

You must choose life or death first to live,

You can't have heaven and earth but must give.

I'd love a thing or two but there's a price and a cost,

I'd love eternal life but there's redeeming and saving the lost;

I'd love a figure in the bank account of my name,

I'd love to but that keeps changing and turning as a game.

I'd love notoriety and be famous for all of the time,

I'd love the companionship of a wife while in my prime;

I'd love a family and the passion of romance falling in love,

I'd love Heaven and earth but must look to God above.

You can't have Heaven and earth in one lifetime,

You must choose one and have the saved line rhyme;

You can't have Heaven and earth God said,

You must choose life not to end up in hell and dead.

Heavens up above and the earth is down below,

The sky lights up at night and the day a blue glow;

Clouds move and meander in their own heavenly way,

While the things of the earth to the devil we must pay.

Heavens a place to go when you die eternally to life,

Hells like the centre of the sun or earth putting you in strife;

Heavens peace of mind by doing what's right and not wrong,

Earths all the work and what word you can live long.
