

In the beginning was the law and Adam and Eve,
Things were going wrong and then men started to believe;
The right and the wrong was the rule of the constitution,
So liking legislation is for the good of the people in the ruling.

It seems a good thing for me to do what is the right thing,
Because it brings love and plenty as well as the peace it will bring;
I like doing what's right because it is good for me to live long,
Like I am writing down a verse, that could be words of a song.

There is many a thing goes wrong and things have to be done,
Like living life on earth and people under the sun;
And love is a kindness that goodness comes from the right,
Like the truth of legislation and Gods one eternal light.

So liking legislation has a reason for us all to believe,
That when you are winning in life you start to receive;
For doing what you can that is right and following the rule,
Is the all living proof of what we all learn at school.

Now as things fall into place so they go where they should,
And all hope and despair is turned around into good;
For the favoritism of the liking of legislative care,
Is the perfect reality of writing printed in prayer.

So we all can thank God for Him giving us what is good,
As we all really deserve and all really well should;
For the responsibility comes with the accounting that's fair,
And therefore liking legislation is following the law with all care,

Signed,

It's good for me
