

Amidst the work of turmoil stress and foil,
Where anxiety breakdowns drive a man to toil;
And God has given up on you and you are left alone,
After you have done all you can and worked yours fingers to the bone.

If you think psychoanalysis is simple watch your step,
For analyzing people have logical reasons for it being sinful;
And the abuse of the self is the nature of destruction,
Where pills and problems need answers and new things to address.

Like studying the mind is a bit like photosynthesis,
Where breathing and living daily is psychological analysis;
And the perspiration and inspiration requires perspiration,
For the intellectual debate of brain and mind in conservation.

So life is what it is and gives us all personal reflection,
On what the peace in head leads to learn perfection;
For psychological analysis is intellectual fascination,
And the stimulus is enthusiasm is physical fluctuation.

So now we need to know the health and well being of living,
Where the understanding of knowledge is in the giving;
For the comprehension of the mind of truth is what the brain thinks,
If you try to appreciate the difference and see all the links.

So if you need a councilor or psychiatrist to visit,
Keep you appointments regular and punctually within limits;
For talking helps people see the right way to go,
And psychology is for studying what you should know.

Right and True
