

We've know from the very beginning of time,
That God would come back and judge all our crime;
Some will go to heaven and some burn in hell,
But for me my hope is to live on in paradise well.

God is the father and Jesus is the son,
To all who believe are united as eternally one;
And the treasure is the gift of eternal life,
For the banquet and feast and lamb's marriage to wife.

The judgement will come you can be sure of the sun,
When all is surmised and added up for him to come;
But for those who are saved all they need is the cross,
When Peter stands at the door Jesus is gives full pardon without loss.

And to those who live on well what can I say,
But those who are lucky and who earn their pay;
Freedom is the trouble so please look hard to find,
The price of salvation is but pure, sweet, peace of mind.

Well I love you all so much now what's left to say,
That Jesus who dies and rose will come again day;
But worry not of life or the turmoil of death,
But just take all your prayers to him who gives breath.

For just as you came you will return again one day,
To your birth and your maker who does as the right way;
For those who are living, be sure to take care,
For there's not much hope without faith but love prayer.

Signed,

All to him who's fair
