

Is luck a factor to be considered,
Aren't we meant to try not coincidence;
Why are some people lucky and some aren't,
Would it be better to pray and have heart.

Luck is a thing you don't really expect,
But comes when you're war if you don't ever select;
It's the reason for something that doesn't seem right,
And it happens on any day or on any night.

Luck not something you can bank on of count,
And look doesn't seems normal in any amount;
But luck can be helpful when you don't have a hope,
For luck is most common when you have to cope.

Luck is a thing that can happen to you,
And luck is so good when you know who;
Luck has no meaning but brings us joy,
For luck is winning when you want to destroy.

Luck is not unkind to those who are wise,
But comes in a fashion under a kind of disguise;
Luck stands out when you dead and your beat,
As long as you stood and stayed on your feet.

Luck is an opportunity to get back on top,
And luck is when you think that you have to stop;
So luck is not bad and can be right all right,
As long as you don't squander and look to the light.
