

For the one I love I give you all,
The one I love is always of call;
For the one I love loves me back,
And the one I love won't let me lack.

For the one I love I'll always love best,
Because the one I love won't put me to test;
But the one I love will do everything,
Because the one I love means special things.

For the one I love I must give her my all,
For the one I love won't me feel small;
But the one I love will lead me to life,
And the one I love will be my wife.

The one I love won't let me down,
The one I love gives smiles not frown;
The one I love is beautiful to me,
And the one I love is lovely to be.

The one I love gives me her heart,
And all of the beauty and love she imparts;
For the one that I love is perfect to me,
Because the one that I love was made just for me.

And as I took her hand and proposed to her,
She accepted a red rose that I gave to her;
And she loved me and loves me right to the end,
So she married me and knew me to be her best friend.

Signed,

I really do love you
