

Run to you when I am down,
With tears of trouble and wear a frown;
Run to you with all my heart,
When weak and fearful of what will start.

Run to you when I am torn,
Between two loves and all I've worn;
Run to you when I can't anymore do,
For you my love will see it come true.

Run to you when all seems lost,
When the price is high because all things cost;
Run to you my darling sweet,
For your love is so perfect something to eat.

Run to you when I can't help,
The world consuming me and I start to yelp;
Run to you when all is so bad,
For you will comfort me when I am sad.

Run to you when you do need,
A kind man with a heart to lead;
Run to you when things get tough,
For your love is good when things are rough.

Run to you when you least expect,
You earn my love and want to respect;
Run to you when all else fails,
For your love wins, it cures all ails.

Signed,

From me to you
