

I am struggling for relevance when everything is there to writet,

When things are there for the taking but you have to be rich to be right;

I think there a point in kindness and associating whats relevant,

When the mind is beautiful and you have the brilliance of reverence.

You have to find what's purposeful and meaningful in time,

When money costs a fortune and words just live to rhyme;

And the passion that's in living and the energy for life,

Is in the strife and turmoil in having enough, to support a wife.

So I look for greater things and what shows relevance for me,

When I can read so much of a lot and I have seen all I can see;

For the real meaning for living is toÂ get all you want gradually,

But it's finding outÂ just how and the means after graduating gravity.

I love to travel and learn to compare places and people to be,

After leading and letting living and reading myself enough to agree;

That we are all after millions to earn and to have liveÂ to enjoy,

For those that find the plenty and want the right to employ.

For how lovely is the romance and the family God desired,

And the magic in the relationship of the perfect system designed;

As the attraction is in paradise and the gold the story told,

Of what is written actually to help and support the bold.

Now the scene that is created is one of richness and beauty,

When the original behavior is best abided in the truth and duty;

So the miracle of the tragedy is learning by your own mistakes,

And you're never too old to admit, there's a greater force in lakes.
