

I'm reluctant to do this because I feel really unlucky,

I've done so much writing that people need persuasion to be lucky;

I love living life but the relativity is really a big reluctance,

And the things that people want are not what they need but relevance.

.

I guess we all want money to buy things, but what we need is time,

And the reluctance to sit down and want to write this is a crime;

So I suppose there is still reluctance to read and write for inÂ prime,

Just as there is a reluctance to read rhymeÂ and notÂ watch the time.

.

The reluctance is becoming a bad habit I want to lose real quick,

But time is holding back the time and taming the mountains is hard to pick;

So there's an element of reluctance and the negativity really shows,

Because being positive to the reluctant is like saying no to letting goes.

.

And the reluctance to dying a death, with so much more life to live,

Can lead to reluctance in getting, but remembering giving will give;

We know we want more worth but are reluctant to pay the price,

For all the pain and suffering to help,Â will hurtÂ but isn't very nice.

.

Then we are reluctant to have the joy of happiness because monies our desire,

And we really must learn to wait for things because reluctance we aquire;

When you know that reluctance is writing you're losing you're right mind,

Because the psychology of it all is finding reluctance as being kind.

.

Really reluctance is notÂ beingÂ able to find anything you need but sin,

Which is an overdose of reluctance itself thinkingÂ laziness will win;

So reluctantly I finish this withÂ no pleasure of more reluctance I need,

So is there really an answer to this because reluctant to read.

.

Signed,

Unrelenting.