

It has got to be a life breathing eternal word,

It is not all about the money and everything on earth;

But the world keeps turning and changing for the better,

Because people work for it and on it and want it to the letter,

If we love God and do what he says as we are commanded,

We look towards his majesty and everything he wants and has granted;

And life is worth the live is we follow as has been suggested,

To go on into glory with we leave the worlds life on earth congested.

There beauty in the making of all the things we hope and plan,

With perfect meaning, implicated and perfection digester's man;

The eternal word of God is completed intricately to be lead,

Where the simple alternative complied with has to be read.

Rome wasn't built in a day but everyone thinks it is,

While everybody works for it and have to do what is his;

For God created earth and has the right to all of it,

As we live and breathe and search for what we think seems fit.

And it's a complicated reciprocation so who really gets there way,

For everybody goes along doing their own thing each different day;

And best thing is the beauty as well all look out to see,

What sails around the work and comes to shore from the sea.

So really as we work here, we have all got our own ideas,

And what happens next determines the reality of the years;

For when we learn to appreciate what a special gift life is,

The eternal word were seeking is the search for the life of His.

Signed,

Infinite Effort
