

People, pen and paper all need patience you see,

As they wonder what will happen and just what will be;

Life goes in circles and some question why,

Because without a little patience all men will die.

.

Patience is an art of waiting upon the spirit,

Which moves and returns when you start to fear it;

So want not your life and have faith in tomorrow,

For in patience there's wisdom if you dare not to sorrow.

.

Look out from above with vision and insight,

So as to see what is coming in the truth and with light;

Patience is to be learnt with the heart as a key,

In establishing what is yours and what is to be.

.

There's no sense in failure in what ever you do,

So use a little patience and make sure you're you;

Now if God's on your side then there's patience at hand,

So allow Him to work and He'll make you grand.

.

Patience is not a problem for someone to see,

But a gift of plenty for all who agree;

Take time to make time whenever you can,

And remember to have time to sit and to plan.

.

It all looks so grey in the future so far,

But with patience and virtue you'll be quite a star;

Well it's time to remember what patience you've had,

As with this pen and paper I am made glad.

.

Signed,

Who's patient.