

What is left when it's all said and done?

When all we have is a prayer for one;

The distance to travel is far too long to go alone,

So we need some companionship and the love of home.

Forever is a long time in this world full of confusion,

Where lust, greed and envy is lost in an illusion;

Eternal love is our answer and solution to this,

In perfect unity of creation as subtle as a kiss.

We grow up and learn that the earth's all we have,

To live and survive on till we're finally saved;

There's plenty of everything if we'll only use our head,

And trust in our heart that God wants us lead,

For creation was doomed, "yes" right from the start,

But atonement we have if we will only be smart;

For Christ's perfect promise for all to have life,

To worship in church and all to take forth a wife.

So eternal love is an option available to us all,

If we will only choose it and pray till our call;

For lost and weary are those who subside,

And go on dying in senseless shame and pride.

So now I'm at rest with this thought in my heart,

Where eternal love is only beginning to start;

There's pleasure in giving and dieing to him,

When love is upon us and we're dead and we're dim.

Signed,

An Invitation.
