

They say that he who is humblest is greatest of them all,

Like the little gentle children who have faith but often fall;

It comes from being human not trying to find fault,

To some its best left alone something to not alt.

Greatness is to say I know and that I really care,

It's humility and believing that God is really there;

I've seen it when it's mighty but doesn't show within,

For without a little kindness it's really quite a sin.

Some seek and ask for pleasure and the greatness it will bring,

Other's think it's money that is really the very greatest thing;

And some will look through books inside out hoping that they'll find,

A little bit of knowledge that will give them the greatest mind.

But greatness is the knowing of the love and grace of God.

And greatness is finding beauty in something most see odd;

No greatness is not what people will think and say or speak,

But greatness is found in meekness when your hurt or have been weak.

I think I'd like to say right now that greatness is not that great,

But something doesn't let me but it says I must relate;

Greatness can't be bought or taught but must be earned to be deserved,

For greatness comes to those who believe that others must be served.

Well there comes a time for everyone to have a little greatness,

For some it's soon and other's late but it comes I must confess;

It comes to those who'll wait and listen or who'll fix another's mess,

And so now this rhyme has had it's time and I need a new thing to address.
