

How do I say I love you, is it really that simple or not,

Is it easy to do so that you will always remember what?

If I said it from my heart would you really want to believe?

Would it all come true in the mind of who it is to conceive?

How do I say I love you is it perfect in every way,

Do you understand how I feel throughout all of the day?

Wouldn't it be nice if you felt the same way too?

When the sun is shining and the whole living sky is blue.

How do I say I love you, does it mean all that it really could,

Would it be possible for me to see and love you as I should?

If I look into your eyes would I see heaven at night?

Would there be a sparkling and a twinkle in the starlight.

How do I say I love you, am I completely honestly devoted,

Or does life go around in circles all being like a dollar floated;

Wouldn't it be magic if all of us had one truly special person?

Each to keep each other company and go on not rehearsing.

How do I say I love you, am I able to understand it wholly,

Or just trust in the knowing of just you alone and solely;

Maybe it will lead to marriage or at least that's a start,

Does that sound nice and kindly all coming from the heart.

How do I say I love you when time is nearly at the end?

I'll just say I love you a lot more than any friend;

I love you, I love you, I love you, now and till forever,

I love your beautiful smile more than all the brilliant weather.

Signed,

I hope you love me back.
