

Needless to say it's money that counts,

Needless to say it's about big amounts;

Needless to say there's a friend in need,

Needless to say it's something you read.

Needless to say it's time for a holiday,

Needless to say what takes up the whole day;

Needless to say that life's what you make it,

Needless to say that God's going to shake it.

Needless to say I can go my own way,

Needless to say we must all earn our pay;

Needless to say I can't make it alone,

Needless to say what you like on the phone.

Needless to say I must try my hardest,

Needless to say it's what's left regardless;

Needless to say that Christ must go on,

Needless to say that the sun still has shone.

Needless to say I'm building a mountain,

Needless to say I'll need an accountant;

Needless to say that life's never ending,

Needless to say I'll spend my time mending.

Needless to say it will never be the same again,

Needless to say after what I did with my pen;

Needless to say you can't have it all,

Needless to say that this ends on a wall.

Signed,

Need more room.
