

Righting the earth well what can I say,

But simply something that must be done every day;

Because right from the start it was doomed to fail,

But saved by God for all to smooth sail.

After the apple and sin of us all,

Adam and Eve and the Devil and fall;

God righted the earth by Christ on the cross,

So that we could all get it right with Him as our boss.

People through the ages have tried to get it right,

With pen and paper and in black and white;

In righting the earth we all try to do our best,

But is still quite a feat and such a big test.

Some read books while others work with their hands,

Writing and doing from people all across the lands;

I suppose there is an idea of what still must be done,

What is left of the world to find the right outcome.

There are all kinds of possibilities of what to do now,

That we all see the way and work out just how;

All needs to be righted and corrected to please,

To be no more wrong doing and kill all disease.

Well let's look at the earth and what's still to be written,

Now as this writing of mine finds what's still to fit in;

I know that I've trusted you all to read it right,

And the sun will still shine to give the earth it's light.

Signed,

One still writing.
