

It's the one true love that is always only one of a kind,

It's the love that never changes and is always on your mind;

It's the love of God that perseveres and persists,

And it's the one true heart whose love within consists.

It's the one true love of that woman that you must be,

It's the one true love of the one who belongs to me;

It's the one true love that all of heaven has to beat,

And it's the truth and knowledge that only Christ can meet.

It's the one true love that lives in perfect beauty,

Of the man whose heart must always do his duty;

It's peace and paradise and always worth being known,

And it's the treasures of the crown and sitting on the throne.

It's the one true love of the kingdom and the empire,

Where the pinnacle experience is something to aspire;

It's the one true love that only God can richly bless,

And the meaning and understanding of all the beaten mess.

It's the one true love that lies and lives within,

And it's the victory of the cross that no more sin can win;

It's lovely and it's gracious, the one that's beating all the odd,

And it's climbing up the mountain rising to meet God.

It's the one true love of living and giving till the death,

It's the one true love of seeing and taking your last breath;

It's the one true love of everything that lives on earth for free,

And it's buying without money the life inside of me.

Signed,

Only one love.
